

State Treasurer Holds Back $1,500,000 On Schools, Roth Claims

LANSING—(AP)—Attorney General Stephen J. Roth today accused State Treasurer D. Hale Brake of holding back about $1,500,000 in escheatable funds from the primary school fund so that a future Republican administration could get credit for turning it over to the schools.

Thus, Democrat Roth returned the fire of Republican Brake in a new chapter of a partisan feud between the two officials.

Yesterday Brake accused Roth of spending $9,326 unnecessarily to escheat to the state $68,000 in unclaimed Consumers Power company deposits which already had been delivered to the state.

By the escheat process the state takes unclaimed deposits, wages, and funds held by Michigan banks and corporations.

Roth virtually ordered Brake to report how much money he was holding of which he had not notified the attorney general so that escheat proceedings could be started and the money deposited in the primary fund.

Included, Roth said, was about $1,250,000 in unclaimed state highway bonds which, having been held for more than seven years, belong to the primary school fund.

Roth said that for 10 months Brake has had Richard C. Shepler, secretary of the state escheats board, and a board employee, David Gregory, trying to uncover something upon which Brake could "hang your political hat."

Roth commented that Brake had raised no question about much special fees since 1943. Asking whether it was a coincidence that the public administrators in those years were Republicans, Roth said "your concern appears to be over fees paid to so-called Democratic party faithful but not as to Republican party faithful."

Roth said that the fees all had been approved by the Ingham county circuit court, but that if the board presented a formal written demand he would ask the court to reopen the fee awards and give the board a chance to protest.

Pink Electrical Union Defeated

BALTIMORE—(AP)—The CIO-International Union of Electrical Workers today appeared to have wrested bargaining rights for a majority of General Electric employees from a rival union it considers Communist-dominated.

Some 90,000 workers voted at 57 GE plants in yesterday's National Labor Relations board election and gave IUE victory in 49 units and divisions representing 66,083 employees.

The United Electrical Workers apparently carried off 47 units with a total representation of 38,137.

In the "popular vote" throughout the GE system, IUE today tallied an unofficial 52,784 to UE's 40,616. The election, however, determines representation by individual plants and not for the whole company.

With the GE results, IUE officials claimed to have lured at least two-thirds of the UE membership away from that union since its expulsion from the CIO last year on grounds of Communist domination.

Russia Says U. S. Bombed Germany With Potato Bugs

BERLIN — (AP) — The biggest story of the cold war here today, from the Communist side, was that "abominable, detestable and monstrous plot of the American imperialists"—their alleged bombing of Soviet East Germany with potato bugs.

When the German Communists raised the charge yesterday, American airmen answered with astonished laughter.

The Soviet-controlled ADN news agency reported "indignation" had swept the Saxon countryside, where the "bombing" was said to have occurred.

East Lansing River To Run Red June 1

EAST LANSING — (AP) — Red Cedar river, the traditional battle ground for warring students at Michigan State College, will really run red June 1.

It will be dyed. Normally it is a muddy brown.

Student officials of the annual water carnival said they planned to dye the river with non-toxic vegetable dye during the three-day event.

They said the stunt was suggested by photographers of various magazines and news reel firms.

Plane Mishap Kills Detroit Industrialist

CHARLOTTE, N. C. — (AP) — Injuries suffered when his private plane crashed and burned claimed the life of Detroit industrialist Frank R. Pierce yesterday.

Pierce, 49-year-old president of Dearborn Motors, died in a hospital here about 24 hours after his two-engine amphibian plane crashed and burst into flames while taking off at Charlotte's municipal airport.

Pierce's wife and four other occupants of the plane were reported recovering from injuries.

Winnipeg Starts Big Cleanup Task Of Flood Disaster

WINNIPEG, Man. — (AP) — Cleanup squads moved into the greater Winnipeg area today behind the retreating Red river to begin a scrub-and-disinfect campaign.

The river level was 28.5 feet, down more than five inches in 24 hours. It was still more than 10 feet above flood stage but was falling steadily. Continued favorable weather through Monday will end all threat of further serious damage, officials agreed.

New Tax Bill's Chances Killed

Favoritism Hinted For Co-op Groups

By FRANCIS M. LE MAY
WASHINGTON — (AP) — Rep. Mason (R-Ill.) said today House tax-writers have killed chances for a new tax bill by such "inconsistencies" as the rejection of a plan to require cooperatives to pay normal business taxes.

The House Ways and Means committee late yesterday rejected proposals to make certain now-exempt income of the co-ops subject to regular corporation tax rates.

Mason, a committee member, called that action an indication of "political favoritism for co-ops," and said it was just one more sign that "there will be no tax bill this year."

That would sound the death knell for committee-approved cuts in excise taxes totalling $1,080,000,000. The House group is trying to slash excises and raise additional revenue all in one bill.

While it refused to vote new co-op taxes, the committee did vote to pick-up an estimated $20,000,000 extra annually by tightening up on taxes due under present law from co-op stockholders and on the patronage dividends received by co-op patrons.

Co-ops usually are made up of farmers, other producers or consumers who seek to save money marketing or purchasing by joint action, in which they receive rebates or customer dividends from any surplus or funds after expenses of the co-op operation are paid.

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia — (AP) — Twelve persons were killed and 12 others injured early today when an express train and a freight train collided in Slovakia. The engineers of both trains were arrested. Officials said their carelessness had caused the collision.

Victory For Allies Predicted As Reds Stage Berlin Show

BERLIN — (AP) — Britain's Berlin commandant predicted today Russia's big weekend propaganda show—the rally of Communist-led young Germans—would end in a "clear victory for the Western Allies."

As Maj. Gen. G. K. Bourne made the prediction, British armored cars stalked themselves out within gunshot of the hot-spot mid-city sector boundary for which Britain is responsible.

Bourne said there might be some Communist agitation groups infiltrating the west sectors, but that Western Berlin police would be capable of dealing with such. He said Moscow apparently had dropped originally planned Communist Putsch tactics after the Western Allies announced they would back up the Berlin police with force, if necessary.

There are already 200,000 young

Prison Near Manila Set Afire In Riot; 17 Dead, 7 Wounded

MANILA — (AP) — Seventeen men, one of them a guard, were killed today in the largest attempted prison break in the history of the Philippines.

Five convicts and two guards were wounded in the two hour gun battle that ensued after lunch.

The battle started when some 50 long term prisoners broke into the prison armory while marching from the dining hall. Some were armed with knives and forks. Others obtained machine guns and rifles.

Guards opened fire on the building. They set it and another prison building on fire.

The armed convicts scattered when the flames burst and battled guards, constabularymen and regular army troops for two hours.

No prisoner escaped, authorities said.

MC CARTHY PACKS AMMUNITION — Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis.) is shown above packing his briefcase with photostatic copies of what he says are pertinent parts of government loyalty files bearing on the Owen Lattimore case. At a convention of Catholic editors in Rochester, N. Y., last night the Wisconsin senator produced documents which he said prove that Lattimore intervened to keep the U. S. Government from firing two wartime Chinese employees, after the Civil Service commission had recommended their discharge because of alleged Communist activity. McCarthy also took on the state department for a fresh round in their bitter battle over whether the department employs Communists and Communist sympathizers. (NEA Telephoto)

Action Of Big 3 Nips Arms Race In Middle East

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON — (AP) — State department officials said today the new American-British-French agreement covering the sale of military weapons to the Middle East should end any danger of an arms race between Israel and the Arab states.

At the same time, they declared, the three power commitment to act against any threat of aggression by either Jews or Arabs, coupled with the arms agreement, should lead to a new degree of stability throughout the whole region.

If these results are in fact accomplished, these officials said, the western powers will be able to count on much greater security in a part of the world second only to the North Atlantic area in its strategic importance in the cold war with Russia.

The Middle East agreement, announced yesterday, is an outgrowth of the recent meetings in London of Secretary of State Acheson, British Foreign Minister Bevin and French Foreign Minister Schuman. One of their purposes in trying to reach an understanding on the problem was to eliminate a conflict of interests between the United States and Britain which has long irritated their relations.

Up to the time they met, Britain had been selling arms to the Arab states and the United States had been selling arms to Israel. Each of the big powers knew in general what the other was doing but no formal agreement covered their actions nor were French interests in the area adequately taken into account.

That the danger of an arms race existed was recognized as long ago as August 1949 when representatives of the three governments said in the United Nations security council that they were opposed to such a development.

Relations Tense Between Guatemala And San Salvador

GUATEMALA, Guatemala — (AP) — Police wielding fire hoses separated two battling soccer teams here last March. As a result relations today between Guatemala and neighboring El Salvador are described officially as "tense."

There is even speculation the two Central American Republics might break off diplomatic relations.

Foreign Minister Gonzales Arevalo declined to comment on the talk of a possible rupture in relations, but said the situation between the two neighbors is tense.

This comment was made after Finance Minister Alfonso Padilla asked congress yesterday for immediate action on a bill to facilitate repatriation of Salvadorans.

He told the lawmakers the matter was one of "national emergency."

Navy Officer Rifles Ship's Safe, Spends $19,000 On Binge

By JAMES R. BACON

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — What would make a Navy officer, with 19 years of honorable service, rifle a ship's safe of $19,000 and then blow it all in a wild six month binge with a blonde?

Lt. Bascom B. Boaz is in the county jail today accused of just that. Broke, he is there in lieu of $10,000 bail awaiting preliminary hearing on federal charges of embezzlement of government funds and desertion from the U. S. Navy.

Home Troubles Blamed
What made the 42-year-old officer do it?

"Domestic trouble started me drinking," he said, "and drinking magnifies all troubles. That kept on until I felt like I was cracking up."

Tall, sturdy and looking very much like a Navy officer with his iron gray hair, Boaz said he drank very little before the war but took it up strong after he separated from his wife in 1941. He said there would have been a divorce then but the war came. He didn't want to go into combat

U. S. Aid Wanted In 60 Countries

Congress Approves $3,120,550,000 Fund

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Congress has put its official stamp of approval on the $3,120,550,000 foreign aid bill.

Senate acceptance yesterday of a Senate-House conference agreement sent the measure to the White House for President Truman's signature.

In addition to $2,949,100,000 in new spending for the third year of the European recovery program, the bill authorizes: $94,000,000 for use in the China area, $100,000,000 for Korea, $27,450,000 for Palestine refugees, $15,000,000 for the international child care's emergency fund, and $35,000,000 for the "point four" program.

Point four, so called because of its position in the President's inaugural address, calls for economic aid to the world's backward areas. The State department reported today that some 60 countries and dependent areas have asked to share in it.

Congress must still act on an appropriation bill supplying the actual cash to cover the entire foreign aid program.

King's Ire Spoils Honeymoon For Egyptian Princess

By HAROLD V. STREETER

SAN FRANCISCO — (AP) — Dark-eyed Princess Fathia, 19, honeymooned today with a 31-year-old commoner—but the fury of Egypt's King Farouk hung darkly over them like a desert sandstorm.

Suave Riad Ghali, denounced by his unwilling royal brother-in-law, said after last night's Moslem rites he may have to leave for Cairo June 16. Ordered home by the indignant Farouk, he passed the word to the U. S. immigration service.

The princess scorned her regal brother's orders lifting her title and impounding her fortune to wed her heart's choice. But she agreed after the hotel ceremony that the silence from Cairo was ominous. Then she added: "I can always hope."

The wedding was held on the first floor of the Mark Hopkins hotel across from the Fairmont where the queen mother has a royal suite. She has been in the United States since 1946 for medical treatment.

Princess Fathia and Ghali went through a civil ceremony on April 25 but have lived apart while waiting for King Farouk to approve Moslem rites. They waited in vain.

Father Of 8 Drowns

Crowded Car Enveloped In Wall Of Fire

Passengers Trapped; Buildings Burned

CHICAGO — (AP) — A wall of fire enveloped a crowded street car after it struck a double trailer gasoline truck last night and 33 persons perished in the flames.

Thirty others were injured, at least three critically. About 20 remained in hospitals. Many of the dead and injured were Negroes.

Over 100 Homeless

The spreading flames from the thousands of gallons of gasoline in the huge truck set fire to eight two-story buildings and several automobiles. No bodies were found in the wrecked buildings. But more than 100 persons—mostly Negroes—were made homeless.

The accident occurred near the end of the evening rush hour—6:30 p. m. (EST)—near the heavily populated 63rd and State street district, on the city's south side.

The crash and a deep roar were followed by black smoke and billowing flames that surged along State street like rolling flood waters.

Victims Scream

Panic followed the crash. And there was terror and confusion at the scene long into the night. Thirty-three pieces of fire equipment answered the extra-alarm fire. Four hundred policemen were on duty.

Traffic snarled as more than 20,000 persons milled in the vicinity, flocking to the scene of Chicago's worst street car accident.

The frantic, trapped passengers screamed hysterically as they fought to flee from the flaming street car. Thirty-two of the estimated 48 passengers burned to death, their lives snuffed out in a matter of minutes after the collision. Many of their bodies were piled in a charred mass at the rear doors.

The truck driver perished in the cab of his truck. It was loaded with between 7,000 and 8,000 gallons of gasoline.

Rear Doors Jam

Only a few of the dead passengers were identified. Many were burned beyond recognition. One was believed to have been the motorman, Paul Manning, 42.

The conductor escaped by jumping through a rear window. About 15 passengers escaped in the same manner, many of them with clothes aflame. The rear doors of the street car jammed and the Chicago Transit authority ordered an investigation.

The crash occurred as the street car—one of the new stream-lined cars—moving south in State street swung suddenly to the left to enter a switch back siding in a vacant lot on the east side of the street. A flooded underpass at 64th street had made it necessary to reroute the car.

Gasoline Pours Out

Witnesses said the car crashed into the northbound truck. Gasoline poured out of the torn sides of the trailers, spilling and spraying over the street car into the street.

A CTA spokesman said the car was moving at a brisk speed when it entered the switch. A flagman said he frantically waved at motorman Manning that the switch was open—in a position which

Smugglers Line Up Revolt Plot

Blonde And 7 Men In $3,000,000 Ring

NEW YORK — (AP) — Seven men and an attractive blonde have been seized in a crackdown on an alleged $3,000,000 counterfeit smuggling ring supposedly linked to a Caribbean revolution plot.

The fantastic scheme, according to an authoritative source, was to sneak $3,000,000 in bogus U. S. bills into Cuba's national treasury, exchange them for good Cuban money and then finance a revolt in the Dominican Republic.

The blonde and four men were arrested here and one man was apprehended in Miami yesterday. Two Cubans were held in that country.

The alleged plot was to work this way:

The ring planned to get in advance a batch of old Cuban currency destined to be burned, and substitute the counterfeit American bills, which presumably would be burned instead of the old and aged Cuban money.

The switch was to be made by Cuban government workers with access to the treasury at Havana.

Block Square Area Razed In Film Studio Fire At Burbank, Cal.

BURBANK, Calif. — (AP) — A spectacular blaze swept through one section of the Burbank studios of Columbia Corp. early today, razing a block square area before being brought under control.

No movies were in production at the time.

Fire Chief W. J. Taylor declined to estimate the damage pending an inventory of the loss.

A 75-foot high reflector, used to focus sunlight on outdoor sets, blazed in the night sky like a torch, drawing hundreds to the scene. The fire raged out of control two hours, spread by explosions of drums of paint and solvents.

The paint shop, carpentry shop, generating plant and numerous movie sets were destroyed, but no one was injured.

Van Buren County Grapes Destroyed By Bad Hailstorm

(By The Associated Press)

Hail cascading from a thunderstorm destroyed $100,000 worth of grapes in Van Buren county overnight, and other lower Michigan areas reported lightning, wind, rain and hail damage over the last 24 hours.

Lightning injured a girl, killed four cows and set a barn afire in widely scattered areas.

The Van Buren hail storm was estimated by experts to have knocked off 1,000 to 1,200 tons of grapes in that vineyard district. Grapes brought around $90 a ton last year.

Outdoors Writers Are Arriving For Three-Day Convention Here

Many To Fish For Walleyes

Public Banquet
Sunday Evening

Newspaper and magazine outdoors writers from four states—Michigan, Ohio, Illinois and Wisconsin—began arriving in Escanaba today for the three-day convention of the Michigan Outdoors Writers association on Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

Originally scheduled as a state convention, the walleye fishing in the Escanaba area attracted the attention of the writers of other states. The daytime hours will be devoted to fishing for walleyes, lake trout, brook trout and other species of fish, while the speaking programs will be presented in the evenings.

Chambers of Commerce and resort operators of the Upper Peninsula are cooperating with the MOWA to assist the writers in getting around the region for the best fishing available. The Menominee C. of C. will send a bus each morning to Escanaba to transport the writers interested in visiting Menominee county's lakes and streams. Mario Fontana, Iron Mountain airport official, will send a fleet of planes here to fly the convention visitors to various parts of the U. P.

Begin Fishing Tomorrow

The fishing expeditions will begin at the break of dawn tomorrow morning. Members of the Wolverine Conservation club, Michigan Conservation department, Forest Service and other experienced fishermen will serve as guides in the Delta county area.

A cocktail hour will be held for the outdoors writers and their wives at the House of Ludington at 4 Friday afternoon. All sessions will be held there.

An elaborate program will follow the banquet, which will begin at 6 p. m. George E. Bishop, secretary-manager of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau, will give the address of welcome, and Rev. Karl J. Hammar will give the invocation.

Will Show Movies

Movies will be shown by Jack Van Coevering, Detroit Free Press outdoors editor, and Jack Rottier, Milwaukeee, representative of the American Forest Products Industries, Inc. Tom Kelly of Milwaukee will follow with a chalk talk on soil conservation. A brief talk on outdoor etiquette will be given by Jim McKenna of the Grand Rapids Press.

Jay Fleming, Jackson Citizen Patriot, and Harry D. Ruhl, chief of the game division, Michigan Conservation department, will debate on pheasant propagation. Another debate on rainbow trout impounding is scheduled between Dr. John Kitchell of Grand Haven and James T. Wilkinson, regional fisheries supervisor, Roscommon.

Nicholas V. Olds, assistant attorney general assigned to the conservation department, will talk on new conservation law enforcement problems, and Herb Bauer of the Battle Creek Enquirer and News, will speak on the question, "Will Artificial Pond Wrecking Spoil Fishing?"

Fishing is scheduled for all day Sunday. The public dinner will be held at the House of Ludington Sunday evening at 6:30. Speakers will include P. J. Hoffmaster, director of conservation; Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner; F. M. Alger Jr., secretary of state; and various outdoors writers.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams will address the convention at the noon luncheon on Monday.

Hickie Resigns His Conservation Dep't Position

LANSING—(P)—Paul Hickie, state conservation department regional chief at Jackson, will resign June 3 to become chief of all wildlife investigations on public lands for the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service with headquarters at Denver.

No successor has been named. Conservation Director P. J. Hoffmaster said.

Hickie joined the department in 1934 as a mammalogist and became regional chief in 1948.

Discuss Water Pollution At Manistique, Munising

Representatives of Manistique, Munising, and Trenary yesterday appeared before the Michigan Water Resources Commission in Escanaba to present their sanitation problems.

The commission is conducting a two-day meeting to discuss with Upper Peninsula communities their pollution of state waters, which has been the subject of past investigations.

Information is being sought by the commission from representatives of the communities and of some industries on what corrective plans have been prepared, whether recent estimates of cost are available, and to what extent pollution correction can be accomplished. Briefly, the commission desires to know whether cooperative compliance with the commission objectives is to be forthcoming.

Commission Members

Dr. Albert E. Heustis, chairman, Lansing; Burnett J. Abbott, Albion; Victor C. Beresford, Ecorse; and Glenn P. Manz, Lansing, were present for the commission meeting opening today. Milton P. Adams is executive secretary.

Other commission members were represented as follows: P. J. Hoffmaster, Lansing, by Stanley Fontana, deputy director of the conservation department; Highwater Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler by Irving Ronk, drainage engineer; and Charles Figy, director of agriculture, by George McIntyre, deputy director.

The pollution problems of the city of Munising, the city of Manistique, and the village of Trenary in Mathias township, Alger county, were discussed yesterday morning.

Manistique Problem

Representing the city of Manistique were City Manager H. W. Heideman and Councilman George Stevens. They presented information concerning the city's water and sewage disposal problems and answered questions put by the commissioners.

The history of the Manistique problem dates back to 1931, with the state making repeated attempts to have the community correct its pollution of the river and Lake Michigan with sewage. The cities beach frontage was condemned in the summer of 1948 as unsafe for swimming because of pollution.

As late as Nov. 1949, the commission reported that it had been assured that plans for pollution control had been approved and the city was contemplating a bond issue at the next election.

Says Water Is First

City Manager Heideman yesterday told the commission that sewage plans had been completed by the Francis Engineering company and had been approved by the department of health.

Heideman admitted that the city does have a pollution problem but insisted that "solution of our water problem comes first." Replacement of a municipal water intake into Indian lake is necessary before other projects are undertaken, he said.

He estimated that it will cost the city $200,000 for a new water intake and a settling tank for city water; and estimated the total cost of improvement to the sewage system at $350,000. "We hope our community will be able to do something within the next five years," he added.

The state pointed out that a pollution problem exists with the Manistique Pulp & Paper company, but it is not a health problem. Conferences have been held with Mead Corporation officials, who advised the state they are conducting experiments in chemical recovery from the mill wastes to control pollution.

Need Sewage Plant

John Gray, representing the Michigan Tourist Council, reported that contamination of public waters seriously affects the tourist industry as well as public health. Indicating the volume of summer business in Manistique, Gray said that sales tax collections there in August, 1949, totaled $25,593, compared to collections of $13,082 in February of last year.

The city of Munising was represented at the hearing by City Attorney George S. Baldwin, Mayor Elton Carberry, City Clerk D. A. Pollet and City Engineer Robert G. Cowell.

The Munising Paper company, also requested to appear, was not represented at the conference. Adams, executive secretary of the Water Resources Commission, said the city of Munising has made some requested improvements but that it should build a sewage disposal plant, for which plans were approved in 1946.

Paper Mill Waste

While the Munising Paper company's sulphite process produces a strong waste that creates a pollution problem in Anna river, which empties into Munising bay, there is as yet no adequate treatment for sulphite liquor waste, Adams said. The problem of pollution from the paper mill was brought to the attention of the state in 1948 by the Munising Conservation Club.

Munising City Attorney George Baldwin told the commission that Munising has tried to carry out the sewage treatment plans approved by the state, but finances are inadequate. The estimated cost of the plant is $250,000, plus the cost of sewer extensions in hilly terrain.

Munising has a population of 6,000, a valuation of $1,500,000, and its tax rate of 24.5 mills is up to the legal limit, he said.

Problem At Trenary

Commission spokesmen pointed out that in such problems as existed at Munising and Manistique, bonds might be required to be paid from water and sewage rate revenues.

The Trenary community, Mathias township, Alger county, was represented by Supervisor William Quarfoot. Trenary, a community of 300 persons, has no water or sewer system. A pollution problem exists because of the lack of sewage septic tanks and the emptying of raw sewage into Scott creek, tributary of the Whitefish river, from a private sewer installed by the Northland Co-Op cheese plant. Shallow wells in the area were reported contaminated with sewage and milk waste.

State health department representatives reported that deeper wells are being dug, and that installation of septic tanks is recommended. John Chriske, district conservation supervisor, reported that fishermen told him milk wastes were visible in the Whitefish river a considerable distance below Trenary.

Supervisor Quarfoot of Mathias township said the township is not responsible for the private sewer. The Northland Co-Op Federation, notified of the meeting, did not send representatives.

Memorial Day Jam Expected

Attention Called To Traffic Dangers

(By The Associated Press)

Signs of a possibly unprecedented traffic flow for Michigan's Memorial Day weekend brought warnings for caution today.

For thousands of citizens it will be a four-day weekend. Memorial Day falls on Tuesday.

The Automobile Club of Michigan predicted that the extended holiday would bring 1,755,000 cars onto the highways.

On last year's Memorial Day weekend 14 persons were killed. This was five less than 1948. Still, it was more than the record low of five deaths in 1944.

Said State Police Commissioner Donald S. Leonard:

"We must aim at an even lower record than that of 1944."

Leonard asked holiday excursionists to leave early and return early "so that they will have plenty of time."

State police patrols will be intensified over the weekend.

In a public appeal for caution the police commissioner said:

"Make sure that your car is in good operating condition, drive with the normal flow of traffic, faithfully observe signs and signals, and be alert at all times."

"In short, be doubly careful."

The Automobile club cautioned likewise. It gave out three tips:

"1. Start driving early.

"2. Take it easy.

"3. Stop to rest or stretch every 100 miles."

The club said the increased traffic this weekend was indicated by an 11 per cent increase in auto registrations since last year.

Michigan And Wisconsin Pledge Joint Action To Reduce River Pollution

Cooperative interstate action to curb pollution on three "problem sections" of the Menominee river was promised here last night at a meeting of the Michigan water resources commission and representatives of the Wisconsin water pollution committee.

The Menominee river is the boundary between the two states, with each state having jurisdiction to the center of the stream. The "problem areas" are:

Ironwood, Mich., and Hurley, Wis.

Iron Mountain and Kingsford, Mich., and Niagara, Wis.

Menominee, Mich., and Marinette, Wis.

Industrial wastes, particularly sulphite liquor from paper mills in some of the communities, contribute to the pollution of waters in both states.

Pledge Joint Action

Theodore Wisniewski of the Wisconsin water pollution committee, and Dr. Albert Heustis, chairman of the Michigan water resources commission, promised cooperation in the interstate campaign to control pollution of the Menominee river.

Representatives of municipalities and industries attended the conference to explore water pollution problems of the Upper Peninsula and interstate waters.

As a result of the conference here, it is planned that Hurley, Wis., will join with Ironwood, Mich., in financing the completion of a sewage disposal plant to serve both communities. Ironwood has been notified to have its plant completed in May, 1953.

Study River Flow

At the second "problem area" on the Menominee river, Iron Mountain - Kingsford, Mich., and Niagara, Wis., there is the added complication of industrial waste and control of the water at eight dams.

Sulphite liquor waste from the Kimberly Clark paper mill at Niagara, plus the impounding of water behind the dams, results in serious pollution conditions. The "critical section" is between the Niagara and Sturgeon Falls dams, where in July of 1948 there was a heavy fish kill caused by the depletion of oxygen in the water from pollution and over-control of the stream flow.

The U. S. Geological Survey has a study underway on river flow in the area with the cooperation of the owners of the dams. It will be completed this summer.

Dams Form Pools

M. G. Garrow, Appleton, assistant general manager of Wisconsin-Michigan Power company, which owns hydroelectric dams on the Menominee river and some of its branches, said that he did not have information on what percentage of flow must be permitted through or over the dams. That information is contained in dam-building permits received from the Dickinson county board of supervisors.

Wisconsin water pollution committee members said the laws of that state require that not more than 75 per cent of the river's normal flow can be held up.

Milton P. Adams, executive secretary of the Michigan water resources commission, said the dams have made that section of the Menominee river "a series of pools rather than a flowing stream," and that pollution must be controlled or the pools will become unsuitable for fish or other aquatic life. The fish kill in July 1948, occurred at a low-water period when the flow was almost non-existent.

Sulphite Wastes

Wisconsin water pollution committee representatives indicated a state order would be required to halt the pollution of the river with sulphite liquor from the Kimberly Clark paper mill at Niagara. Perhaps the sulphite waste can be hauled out on roads for use as binder, a practice of the Marinette Paper company.

The third problem area on the Menominee river occurs near its mouth, between the cities of Menominee and Marinette.

Wisniewski of the Wisconsin water pollution committee explained the pollution control in the disposal of sulphite waste by the Marinette Paper company was the only one so far discovered that promises to be practical.

The sulphite liquor is hauled

Water Plant Site Approved

Sand Point Location Okehed By Comish

The city planning commission Thursday night recommended to the city council that the new water filtration plant be located on Sand Point in the vicinity of the old radio tower of WDBO.

Elmer Krieger, of Milwaukee, the city's planning consultant, had recommended that the filtration plant be located in approximately that area but along the south shoreline. The planning commission suggested that the plant be set back from the water's edge, facing the entrance to the yacht harbor.

The commission also recommended that the architectural firm of Perkins and Will and the engineering firm of Consoer and Townsend make new studies for possible architectural changes in view of the revised location.

Airport Needs Studied

A recommendation to the council that the city meet requirements of the Civil Aeronautics administration for obstacles removal in the vicinity of the airport also was approved by the commission.

It was proposed that the problem be worked out in the most economical manner possible. Approximately $34,000 in land purchases is necessary to remove obstacles but City Manager A. V. Aronson suggested that it may be possible to reduce costs by extending the north-south runway in a northerly direction.

The commission recommended the extension of sewers between 22nd and 23rd streets from Fifth avenue south to Third avenue. The sewer would have to traverse an unplotted area but the commission recommended that the area be subdivided to conform to the city's master plan.

The meeting, delayed two hours because of the lack of a quorum, continued to nearly midnight.

ham shows that cows on spring pasture produce just as well on home grown grains alone as when protein supplements are added, he said.

Farmers should consider the height of the grass rather than the calendar when turning cattle out for pasture, J. L. Heirman, county agricultural agent, noted today.

Over-grazing of spring pastures is one of the chief causes of low productivity, thin stands and weed growth, particularly on permanent pastures, Heirman stated. The common June grass and white clover mixture should be allowed to grow four inches and rotation pastures, six to eight inches before cattle are allowed to graze on them, he explained this morning.

Continuous close grazing diminishes root reserves, and causes a weakened condition which inhibits satisfactory plant recovery and yield. The common practice, Heirman pointed out, is to pasture too early in the spring, overstock and pasture late in the season. Under such conditions, plants do well to survive even with the most favorable soil and climatic conditions.

The county agricultural agent also pointed out that cows producing over 15 to 20 pounds of milk per day should be fed some grain to keep them in good flesh and hold up the milk flow. Since grass is high in protein, home grown grains are sufficient and no protein concentrate is needed.

Season Begins At Wells Park

Expect Thousands There In 1950

Many improvements have been made at J. W. Wells state park on the bay shore 30 miles south of Escanaba and facilities are now ready for the 1950 season, when thousands of visitors will enjoy the recreation area.

George Hughes, park manager, reported the park officially opened May 15 and since then has been extensively used by groups of students on outings. There were 1,383 boys and girls there on Wednesday last week, and 1,500 on Thursday.

500 on Sunday
This last Sunday about 500 persons were registered at the park, which has a development area of approximately 80 acres. The total park area is 916 acres and includes varied tree species and terrain.

The staff at the park, besides the manager, includes Joseph Mikolayik, Tedius Kimichick, William Weinschmitt and Robert Morneau.

In the developed area of the park are picnic grounds, group camps, a swimming beach on the shore of Green bay, a camp grounds, service buildings, and concessions. The park is popular as a family outing site because of the playground equipment for children.

Property Improved
The kitchen and mess hall and two cabins in the group camp have been winterized and prepared for year-around use. The mess hall has equipment for serving 100 persons, there are four cabins with a sleeping capacity of 16 persons each, and toilets and showers.

The outdoor camp ground, where visitors pitch a tent or park a trailer, has electric outlets and is equipped with toilets and laundry and showers. About 60 trees, mostly maple and ash, have been planted in the camping area this spring.

Too Many Tears Are Being Shed For Doctor Sander

By ROBERT C. RUARK
Considerable tears have been shed about this Dr. Hermann Sander, the mercy-killer, returning to the good earth "at four bucks an hour, in order to feed his family since they took away his license to practice medicine. It seems to me the guy's lucky not to be toiling in a jail-mill for the state for no dough.

RUARK

Dr. Sander's license was revoked in New Hampshire for a few very sound reasons, if you can take time off from the cozy sentimentality which has clung to the Sander case since he first was accused of killing his patient because he felt so sorry for her.

He was acquitted of a murder rap in a vastly over played trial since the cancerous victim of his charity was on the verge of death when he injected her with intentionally lethal air, and since his injection was generally allowed by physicians to be insufficient to cause death. Dr. Sander's plea switched, at the end of the trial, from that of a crusading physician stamped a sufferer out of misery to the hackneyed old plea of the gal with the smoking gat: "Everything went black."

The trial, supposed to rank with the famed Scopes case in social significance, thus reverted to just one more murder trial, with the smart lawyers playing the smart angles. Dr. Sander got clear, but dropped his license in the avoidance of other revenge by the state for monkeying with a physician's prerogatives.

At the time of his trial, commenting physicians accused Dr. Sander of but two crimes: Irresponsibility, and a penchant for making grandstand plays. Whatever he wished to prove by writing his "mercy-killing" attempt on the chart, after the patient was long dead, is lost in his eventual dependence on the "everything went black" plea.

Wrong on Two Counts
He stands as an irresponsible physician on two counts. The first, an effort to speed a patient to death when she was already within a few yards of dissolution, thereby making his "mercy" killing almost frivolous in its non-necessity. The second sign of irresponsibility was the listing on the chart of his attempt — because the attempt was not sufficient to kill her, and because doctors often hasten the mathematical end of life in incurable cases by quietly over-dosing the sufferer.

So Dr. Sander appears as a dumb doctor, on the evidence, not to say an hysterical one. His was not a cause celebre, at all. It was the case of a guy who pulled a stupid showoff play, for no real reason, and the play was overdignified by its handling. Doctors spend a long and gruelling time learning how to heal the sick. A doctor is above the law as no other man is above the law, since a doctor can kill you through stupidity or neglect or a bum diagnosis and never face a judge and jury. He is allowed a margin for error that is allowed no other professional man in the world.

No Sawbones for Him
He is going to make a certain number of tragic mistakes, because he is human, but flagrant irresponsibility is not a characteristic one seeks in a physician. A doctor who attempts to kill a patient, by his own admitted entry on a chart; who fumbles the job of killing the patient by not killing her efficiently enough; who then backtracks with the excuse that he didn't know what he was doing, is no sawbones for me or you.

If there is any single commodity you buy in a doctor, it is certainly of intent and technical know-how. The man who cuts off your leg when what you need is something to cure athlete's foot is no boy to run loose with a scalpel and a shooting license to use it.

So I mourn not for Dr. Sander, as he tills the soil for four bucks an hour. He is a tragic guy, a misguided man, but you can't perform an appendectomy with a plow. This is fortunate, in his uncertain state of a mind, because everything might go black, and there you'd be with a plow-share in your stomach.

DUET AND ENCORE

They might not bring down the house at Carnegie Hall. But they'll win an encore at Vacation Bible School.

Theirs is the kind of singing in which spirit and enthusiasm count. When you're singing "Jesus Loves Me" a few flat notes don't matter.

Even after these happy weeks at Vacation Bible School they won't be ready for a Metropolitan audition. But their young lives will be richer in the qualities that make for happiness and moral health.

Our boys and girls deserve the opportunities which our churches offer them. They need the goodtimes and helpful training that have made Vacation Bible School an American tradition.

Encourage your youngsters to attend!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Deer Problem Gets No Help From State Conservation Unit

Responding to a resolution adopted in April by the Delta County board of supervisors, the Michigan conservation commission has advised the county clerk's office that the state department does not have broad enough authority to control the deer damage problem in the county.

In a letter addressed to the deputy county clerk, Wayland Osgood, secretary of the commission, requested that farmers whose crops are damaged by deer refer the matter to the local conservation officer, who may suggest ways of "eliminating or reducing" crop damage.

The commission secretary explained that in 1949 the state legislature gave the conservation department broader authority to control deer population in the fruit country in the western part of Lower Michigan, and that the commission hopes it eventually will be given that authority throughout the state.

The commission discussed the Delta county resolution at its meeting in Lansing May 11.

Hailstones Strip West Virginia Crops

ROMNEY, W. Va.—(P)—A severe hailstorm pelted the eastern panhandle of West Virginia yesterday, causing extensive crop damage and disrupting communications.

The ice pellets—about three-fourths of an inch in diameter—mowed down plants, stripped leaves off trees and left a two-inch sheath of ice over streets and roads before giving way to rain.

The stricken area is on the fringe of the rich orchard belt that includes Northern Virginia and Western Maryland. Damage to fruit trees could not be estimated immediately, but it was expected to run high.

Industries At Hearing Here

State Reviews U. P. Waste Problems

One industry in Delta county, two in Menominee, and others in the Upper Peninsula today reported to the Michigan water resources commission conference on their plans for control of pollution.

Appearing before the commission this morning were representatives of the Rapid River Cooperative Creamery at Rapid River in Delta county; and Superior Sugar Refining company, and the Marathon Corporation, paper mill, at Menominee.

Harold Gustafson of Ensign, representing the Rapid River Cooperative Creamery, assured the commission that the board of directors of the creamery's desire to cooperate in halting the dumping of whey into Rapid River.

The problem is the disposal of about 30,000 pounds of whey each day from the creamery, and a drying process is being considered, Gustafson said. In response to questions by the commission, Gustafson said that if it is possible the creamery will haul the whey away for disposal until other methods are devised.

Refinery on Trial—The commission has asked the creamery to eliminate this source of pollution, and Dr. Albert E. Heustis, chairman, said the commission will appreciate cooperation in getting such waste out of the river.

The Superior Sugar Refining company, Menominee, was represented at the conference by John Sargent, plant manager.

Milton P. Adams, executive secretary of the state water resources commission, described the plant as one of the larger industrial waste problems on the Menominee river and that he was not satisfied that everything was being done that could be done by the company to correct the problem.

Sargent said that efforts were being made to comply with the state's requirements. Steps are being taken to strengthen the dikes in settling lagoons and to remove larger amounts of debris before the liquid waste enters the river. Until these steps have been taken, he said, he did not think it would be fair for the state to order abatement of pollution before the fall of 1950.

Marathon Praised—Sargent said he was confident that corrective measures now planned will be effective and the 1950 fall run of the beet sugar refinery will show the pollution reduced to state requirements.

He was told by the commission that it believes screening of the waste is necessary, but that a trial would be permitted for 1950 on plans suggested by the refinery. If they are not satisfactory the state will order compliance for the 1951 season.

The Marathon Corporation, operator of a paper mill at Menominee, was complimented by the commission for its action in correcting pollution.

Don Rossow, plant manager, reported that Marathon Corporation had completed a sanitary sewage connection in 1948, and through changes in operation and some rebuilding the fiber loss from waste into the Menominee had been materially reduced. The reduction was to a percentage described as "very good" by state engineers.

Boy Sells Beloved Pup To Help Pay For Drowned Pal's Burial

NEW YORK—(P)—Holding back the tears, thirteen-year-old Rudy Loizi sold his beloved pup Brownie for $2 yesterday to help raise funds to bury a 17-year-old pal who drowned.

The Pal, Frankie Romanger, lost his life ten days ago while playing with Rudy and other friends on an East river dock. Frankie's parents were short of cash, and his body has been at Bellevue hospital morgue since it was recovered two days ago.

Boys of the neighborhood started collecting a funeral fund yesterday. After Rudy sold his pup, another lad sold some pet pigeons and tressed $3 into the kitty, made up mostly of pennies and nickles.

Some boys ran errands for tips, others collected rags and bottles to sell.

Eyebrows And Pants Missing In Accident

GLENMONT, Md.—(P)—State police hustled to the scene of an accident yesterday and found truck driver Jay K. Cope wandering around with singed eyebrows and no pants.

His tractor-trailer had hit a culvert and its gas tank exploded. Cope was in a daze when the cops arrived. The 38-year-old resident of nearby Woodbine was unable to say whether he had jumped or been thrown from his cab by the impact.

Except for the missing eyebrows and trousers, he was okay.

Crowded Trolley Collision Kills 33 In Chicago

would change the course of the car. The car continued on—and collided with the gasoline truck.

After the bodies of the victims were removed, police pulled the trolley car away from the position in which it had been burned. The floor had burned through and a pile of debris was found in the street. It contained burned bits of clothing, shoes, and other items, including parts of toys.

All Charred Mass—The victims' bodies lay in a charred mass under tarpaulins on the sidewalk and priests administered last rites of the church to the group.

Later the bodies were removed to the Cook county morgue where the difficult task of identification was started. Because of the charred condition of the victims and destruction of identifying papers, coroners officials said identification will be slow.

The truck driver was identified as Mel Wilson of Valparaiso, Ind. He was driving a truck owned by Sprout and Davis, Inc., of Whitings, Ind.

Circus Tent Sags In Storm At Niles; 300 Flee In Panic

NILES, Mich.—(P)—Plenty of panic but only slight injury resulted yesterday when a block-long circus tent filled with 3,000 spectators partially collapsed during a windstorm.

A gust toppled the main pole at one end of the tent, and the canvas began collapsing. But circus hands rushed around and righted the pole before the tent went down.

Damage was repaired quickly and most of the crowd that had rushed out frantically returned to see the rest of the Mills Brothers circus.

Mrs. Ada Bernahl, 61, and Mrs. Mildred Hohman, 35, both spectators, suffered scalp lacerations and were treated at Pawating hospital. Some of the children attending the afternoon performance were knocked down, but none was hurt.

Strike In Atom Plant Weakens

OAK RIDGE, Tenn.—(P)—Officials watched for possible crumbling of a wildcat work stoppage by 3,000 AFL construction workers on a mammoth atomic plant job today, informed sources said.

A spokesman for the atomic energy commission reported a trickle of union men showed up for work on the night shift at the $227,000,000 project last night after union leaders publicly denounced the strike as unauthorized.

About 75 union craftsmen of the 525 men normally working on the shift crossed picket lines of the AFL laborers and hodcarriers, the government spokesman said.

The laborers and hodcarriers union Local 818 launched the walkout Wednesday. Yesterday the stoppage halted construction on the K-29 and K-31 plants, being built to increase production of uranium-235, the fissionable element of the atomic bomb. The local has about 700 members.

The laborers asked a wage increase from 95 cents to $1.25 an hour.

Site Selected For Proposed War Memorial

A site for the proposed stone war memorial on city property on Maple avenue, north of the high school stadium, will be selected following a conference between city manager H. W. Heideman and the Schoolcraft County Memorial Committee.

This was decided at a regular meeting of the city council Monday night after Sgt. Charles McQuay, chairman of the memorial committee, asked the city for a small plot of land in the quarry pool area for the memorial site.

Describes Memorial
Sgt. McQuay explained to the council that the war memorial, which is for Schoolcraft county's dead of all wars, would be approximately 13 and one-half feet high and would be a four column affair resting on a stone base and with a stone cap across the top. The names of the dead of each war, he said, would be engraved on each column.

It is proposed, he said, to have the memorial stone completed by next Armistice Day on November 11.

Mayor James H. Fyvie explained to Sgt. McQuay and other members of his committee present that the city recreation commission also was seeking a plot of land in the quarry pool area for development into a ball field. In particular, he said, the commission desired land adjoining the high school stadium so that advantage could be taken of the stadium lights for night playing.

Both the memorial site and the ball field, he suggested, should be developed so that they would fit into an over-all quarry pool recreational program.

Council to Decide
The mayor recommended that the memorial committee meet with City Manager H. W. Heideman on the matter, and wait until a future meeting of the council for a definite decision. Everett Anderson also appeared before the council to request that the city purchase approximately five dozen permanent markers for soldiers' graves in local cemeteries. He explained that he was making the request on behalf of the three local veterans organizations.

A survey of local cemeteries, he said, revealed that about four dozen graves were without such markers. A veterans state organization, he said, had advised Manistique veterans groups that it was the city's responsibility to provide such markers, made so by statute. He suggested that about 60 markers be purchased at approximately $18 per dozen.

The city council decided to defer action on the matter until the city attorney has an opportunity to study the state law covering municipal responsibility in the matter.

Firemen Meet August 2 To 5

Gladstone Volunteers Plan For Tourney

The 56th annual Upper Peninsula Firemen's tournament will be held in Ironwood on August 2, 3, 4 and 5 according to dates approved by the association officers at a recent meeting in Ironwood.
In addition to approving dates for the tourney they accepted the resignation of Ernest Couch, Stambaugh, association secretary, who is leaving the Upper Peninsula and offered a unanimous vote of thanks for past services.
Authorization was made to dedicate this year's souvenir program to two volunteer firemen who lost their lives in the line of duty.
The Gladstone Volunteer department again will be represented at the tourney.
It is expected that nearly 50 departments will take part in the dress parade, representing a growth in membership of approximately 15 departments in the last decade.
Jack Torreano, 2nd vice president, of Laurium, was commissioned to arrange for the picture and memorabilia for the late Joseph Miglio, Calumet department, for the program dedication page.

Escanaba Bears Entertain Trenary In Top Rainbow Loop Game Sunday

Some top-notch baseball games are in store for fans of Rainbow, Bay De Noc and Tri-County leagues Sunday.

On the local front in the Rainbow league, Escanaba Bears will attempt to stretch their victory string to two games against Trenary at the Escanaba city diamond.

Escanaba beat Gladstone, 5-3, in the opener last Sunday while Trenary was showing a world of power by walloping its arch rival, Chatham, 13-3.

Gladstone and Manistique, traditional rivals, will meet at Manistique in a game which will find the Cardinals seeking their second win. Last week, they had little trouble disposing of Groos.

Feature Game
Two defeated teams — Groos and Chatham — will meet on the latter's diamond and, barring a tie or cancelled game, one is bound to go up the ladder.

Gwynn and North Lake, two other teams which won their opening games, will meet at North Lake, Munising will play at Marquette and Dorr will travel to Little Lake.

In the Bay de Noc league, Rapid River and Cornell, which won their first games, will tangle at Cornell in the feature attraction.

Fayette, which defeated Perkins last week, will entertain Garden, which lost to Nahma.

Nahma will be host to Perkins and Cooks, which lost to Cornell, will play at Rock, which lost to Rapid River.

Perronville At Felch
In the Tri-County league, Perronville, which walloped Wilson 30-2 last week, plays at Felch, which defeated Foster City, 12-9.

Stephenson, which trounced Bark River, plays at Powers, which took the measure of Hermansville.

The four first round losers will meet, Hermansville playing at Bark River and Foster City at Wilson.

Softball Twin Bill Lined Up For Sunday

Another big Sunday night doubleheader under the lights has been arranged for Escanaba softball fans at the city softball diamond.

It will start off at 7:15 with Harnischfeger Americans, a new young team, meeting White Birch. The Harnischfegers probably will start Kenny Dufresne and Phil Brazeau while White Birch will have a brother combination, Francis or Leo Lancoeur pitching and Harry Lancoeur catching.

In the finale at 8:45, the strong Paper Mills outfit will tangle with the Liberty loans, a veteran team which has done an unprecedented thing this year—lost three games in a row. That is unheard of for the Loaners.

Elegert May Start
Paper Mills probably will start Tom Elegert or Paul Larson and

Dave Larson while the Loaners probably will open with "Ike" Eis or Louie Kositzke and Bob Anderson.

Profits from the games will go to the Softball association.

In a National league game last night, the Steam Laundry bats were mainly silent except for one inning—the fourth—but in that one they pushed across five runs to nose out St. Thomas, 5-4.

Wally Larson, Laundry catcher, hit three for four, and Sammy Schram doubled with the bases loaded. For St. Thomas, Steve Rabideau doubled two runs home in the third to give his team a temporary lead.

Line score:
Steam Laundry . . . 000 500 0—5 9 2
St. Thomas . . . 002 010 1—4 7 3
Bill Benard and Wally Larson; Bill Doucette and Will Doucette.

Wakefield Post Wins District Pistol Shoot

A team representing the Wakefield post captured honors in the semi-annual district State Police pistol shoot in a 9-team event held at the Gladstone range Thursday.

Gladstone placed second, 32 points back of Wakefield, whose winning aggregate score was 1063 x 1200 for the difficult course of fire.

Marquette post was third, L'Anse fourth, St. Ignace fifth, Newberry sixth, 8th district headquarters seventh, Manistique was eighth, and Iron Mountain ninth.

Composing the winning team were Sgt. Gerhard Carlson, and Troopers Tom Tobin and Richard Sweet. The Gladstone team was composed of Troopers Joe Svoke, Glen Perry and William Shidler.

Although his team placed next to last, high individual score was made by St. Nick Modders of Manistique who had 371 x 400.

Sgt. Forest White, L'Anse, former Gladstonian, placed second two points back with Tobin of the winning team getting 365 and Svoke 358.

Weather handicapped the men to some extent.

Capt. W. B. Babcock of Lansing conducted the shoot as range officer. He praised the local range and indicated there is a possibility the shoot may be held here in the future.

Cpl. Gordon Hanthorn, acting commander of the Gladstone post, expressed appreciation of the Michigan State Police for the co-operation received from the Gladstone Rifle and Pistol club in making its facilities readily available for the event.

Spilling The Dope

By Charlie Larson

Steve Baltic and Henry Wyle are unhappy. . . very unhappy. They have been put on the "hot seat."

The Escanaba track team has lost twice to Menominee but our friend, Jim Ripley of the Menominee Herald Leader, comes out with a sport page streamer saying:

"Eskymos Appear Team to Beat for U. P. 'B' Track Title."

Then Jim, in what is called a "bunk piece" by newsmen, tells why he thinks so.

He compared times made in the three district meets last Saturday and comes up with the discovery that, on the basis of performance, Escanaba should come through with three firsts, two seconds and enough thirds, fourths and fifths to ring up 30 points at the U. P. meet in Houghton Saturday.

Jim figures that Menominee should be second with 24 1-3 points, followed by Ironwood and Soo with 24 each and Newberry with 20.

That's all well and good—but.

One of Jim's firsts for Escanaba is in the 440 yard dash where he points out that the Eskymos Con Luecke ran it in .55.4 and Steve Petros of Marquette ran it in .55.5.

To show how faulty his calculations may be, this boy Petros Tuesday against Stephenson stepped the distance in .54.9. That, incidentally, isn't loafing. Take it from one who had difficulty "breaking" 60 flat.

Baltic and Wyle know that paper performances don't win track meets.

They hope Ripley is correct. But they won't bring out their silver polish until the trophy has been awarded at Houghton Saturday night.

Hermansville Youth Seeks to Crack U. P. Mark in 100 Yard Dash

HERMANVILLE — All eyes Saturday will be on a stocky Italian boy from Hermansville at the Upper Peninsula high school track and field finals at Michigan Tech in Houghton.

He is Victor Fochesato, who last Saturday ran the fastest 100 yard dash in Upper Peninsula high school history.

At the district meet in Menominee, Fochesato sped over Walton Blesch field cinders in .09.9 seconds. He was clocked at that speed by all three timers.

The time, unfortunately for Fochesato, will not go down in U. P. record books because records are not "official" unless made at the U. P. finals.

If Fochesato, a senior, can duplicate his feat Saturday, his record will be official.

Seeks Brother's Record
Victor will be out to break the existing U. P. class D-E records of .10.2 in the 100 and .24 flat in the 220 set by his brother, Reno, eight years ago.

Victor's improvement is shown by the fact that as a sophomore he ran the 100 in .11.2 and the 220 in .24.8.

Last year, at the district meet in Menominee, he had lowered that 100 mark to .10.6 and the 220 to .24.3.

"This year, we had a late start because of the weather but we worked out in the gym under Coach Bob Tacker," said Victor. "This year is 'my' year to beat by brother's record."

"If I get a good start at the gun at Houghton, I feel sure I'll break

SOLITARY GRANDEUR — Dick Wakefield assumed Judge Landis pose all by his lonesome at Detroit's Navin Field while waiting to see what the Yankees intended to do with him. The problem child, outfielder, was returned to the New York club when the White Sox refused to restore $5625 pay cut.

the records for both the 100 and 220. At least, I hope I do."

Said Coach Tacker:

"Victor's breaking of the 100 yard dash record at Menominee was not surprising because he has both the ambition and ability to do it."

"Works Hard"
"His sincere outlook in conditioning and training and the manner in which he receives instruction have gone a long way in enabling him to reach his goal."

"He has worked hard and deserves any honors he receives."

Hermansville qualified 15 men and the relay team for the Houghton meet and is out to cop the U. P. title.

Besides Fochesato in the dashes, Coach Tacker is relying heavily on Emil Ayotte, who placed first at Menominee in the pole vault, broad jump and the half mile.

Others who qualified are: Maule and R. Nelson and C. Nelson in the dashes, Holle and Christensen in the 440, Poquette and LaRoche in the mile, Belanger, Marchette, C. Nelson and Fletcher in the hurdles, Lohf, Tomasi and Marchette in the high jump, Lohf and Maule in the broad jump, Lohf in the pole vault, Nelson in the shot put and Maule, Christensen, Nelson and Fochesato in the 880 yard relay.

Commission Is Studying Water Problem In U. S.

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Morris L. Cooke, chairman of President Truman's Water Resources Policy Committee, owns a little farm in Bucks County, Pa. It's in the Hunting Owl Creek "watershed," to give it a fancy name. Hunting Owl Creek flows into the Delaware River. The creek watershed covers about 1000 acres, in which are less than a dozen farms. About 12 years ago, the farmer with the lowest land in the watershed came to see Mr. Cooke. He said he was getting kind of tired having his land flooded every spring, its fences swept away and a lot of driftwood and rubble piled in his meadow. He wondered if something couldn't be done about it.

A Big Problem
Mr. Cooke asked the Department of Agriculture, and found its soil conservation experts were looking for a place to put on a demonstration. They got agreement from the 12 farmers in the Hunting Owl Creek watershed. The valley was surveyed. Terraces were put in to stop gullyng. Fences were taken out and the land was laid out for contour plowing right across property lines. The whole idea, as Mr. Cooke puts it, was "to keep the raindrop where it falls."

Multiplying Morris Cooke's Hunting Owl Creek watershed problem by about 2,500,000 and you have some idea of the problem before his present Water Resources Policy Commission. This seven-man commission was named by the President last January. It is to make its report by next Dec. 1. The results will probably provide material for recommendations to Congress in the President's 1951 message on the State of the Union.

The Cooke Commission report won't attempt to be a complete blueprint—a master water plan for the whole United States. It will make reports on 10 main U. S. watersheds. One of them will be the Mississippi which of course takes in two-thirds of the country. The others will be principal rivers where there are key problems of water conservation, flood control or navigation.

The Cooke Commission has been specifically charged not to bother about which government agency does what in dealing with U. S. water resources. It will therefore not have to worry about the Hoover Commission's recommendation that there be a single government agency to handle all problems relating to land and water. And the commission will not attempt to resolve the long-standing three-cornered fight among Army Corps of Engineers, Bureau of Reclamation and the Department of Agriculture.

Try to Harmonize
With this as a starter, the Cooke Commission in its meetings thus far has been trying to bring together the agencies with conflicting viewpoints. Mr. Cooke gives one example. There is no agreement among experts on whether what is done to the surface of the land has anything to do with the ground water level beneath the surface. Geological Survey thinks there is little or no relationship. Bureau of Soil Conservation thinks that surface conditions have everything to do with sub-surface water conditions.

So the two agencies have been asked to submit briefs on their conflicting theories, with supporting data. The experiences of California and the Louisville area, in "recharging" water from outside sources, to raise ground-water levels, will be considered. Then "neutral" engineers will try to bring everything into harmony.

This is what Mr. Cooke, who is a Quaker, says the Friends do in trying to arrive at "the sense of the meeting." From this procedure on other controversial aspects of the water problem, the commission hopes it can produce sound policies for future guidance. The commission's report will cover such subjects as stream pollution, navigation, municipal water supply, flood control, hydro-electric power development, irrigation, erosion, up-stream vs. down-stream development, land use and water rights.

One of the commission's first actions was to prepare a tough questionnaire on local water problems. It sent these questionnaires to some 60 state universities, engineering schools and water authorities. A great deal of work has gone into these regional reports. Some of them will be ready for consideration when the commission meets in Washington at the end of May.

In June the commission will take to the road. It will hold two-day hearings in Sioux City, Spokane, San Francisco, Denver and Fayetteville, Ark.; Springfield,

National Association of Electric Companies and Edison Electric Institute have been asked for their views on hydro-electric power development. If the Cooke Commission can get any "sense of the meeting" between these groups and the public power advocates, it will indeed be good and well worth the cost.
